A Note from the Superintendent

The way the winter started I thought it was going to be a warmer than usual season. However, the snow keeps coming and Mother Nature just doesn’t want us to get into spring. We all know warmer weather is coming. I just hope it comes before the last week of school.

Safety Plans

I have just a few things to mention this month. As I’m writing this, the legislature is still in session. Although they have approved an adequate amount of Supplemental State Aid to schools, a mere 1%, there are still several bills which are being debated. One of those, deals with school safety plans. Because of this, I thought I would share some of the things we have done over the years to help protect our students. One of our professional development activities a few years back was a program called “Save Yourself.” We trained the entire staff on what to do IF an intruder was in the building. This spring, we are having a refresher course in this program. We remodeled the entryways so guests have to go through the front door and into the office before getting to the rest of the building. We have locked down all the doors during the day and guests have to use an entry call button to be allowed into the building. There are panic button locks that will lock the door from the office to the rest of the school, if needed. We have not had drills for an active intruder. Really, for two reasons: 1. We didn’t want to scare any kids and 2. We didn’t want people to know what our safety plan was. If they did, it could possibly help the intruder in planning. This will all change if the bill passes for safety plans. The bill requires drills to be held. Please, always remember, we do take the safety of ALL our students very seriously.

Student Achievement Data

I have included some information on how our students compare to the rest of the schools in the Northwest AEA and the rest of the schools in the State of Iowa. You must understand when looking at student achievement data that this is a snapshot taken sometime during the school year. Overall, our students scored pretty well. Some classes have done better than others and you can see that when looking at scores for these classes in all three areas, Reading, Math and Science. (See the Charts on page 2) The first bar is our district. The second bar in the Northwest AEA. The third bar is the State of Iowa.

If you can believe it, we just have a few weeks of school left in the 2017-18 school year. About 30 some days are left for seniors. If you get a chance, take a moment to thank your child’s teacher for the hard work they have put in this school year. They have put in countless hours of checking papers, preparing lesson plans, and professional development activities to ensure your child has had a great year.
Elementary Comments

- Mr. Wiese

The Spring season is here, the warm weather hopefully is coming! We are into the final quarter of 2017-2018 and we want everyone to finish strong! The month of April is filled with lots of activities.

Each school year we have eight emergency drills. Four of the drills are for fire and the other four are tornado drills. Each drill takes approximately four minutes to complete. We hope we never have to experience this for real but we must be prepared if either should occur. We have four in the books from the first semester and four will be in the books for the second semester by the end of April.

Here are some important dates to remember:

1) “National Library Week” hopefully will be April 16-20. The theme is our “Solar System.”

2) Class of 2031 Kindergarten Round-Up on Friday, April 6 (2 Sessions: 9:00 am & 1:00 pm).

3) Friday, May 4, 8:20-10:00 “Pre-School Visitation Day.”

4) Various Field Trips (memo’s sent out by classroom teachers).

Finally, it was great to see you at Parent-Teacher Conferences! Thank you for all of your support and commitment to champion excellence for your kids!
Middle School Comments

- Mr. Wiese

Please continue to encourage your child to finish the year strong! Many of you take advantage of the JMC On-Line Parent option to view your child’s grades, lesson plans, and attendance. If you would like more information about this, please contact this office!

The annual “Candy Fund Raiser” was a success again! Candy has already arrived and should have been delivered. Thank you for all of your help! Our main goal this year was to get new football jerseys and new volleyball jerseys and we are very close to that goal! In addition, we are selling last years uniforms for football and volleyball (please contact the office if you are interested in one of these items).

It is great to see the kids involved in extra-curricular activities throughout the school year! “National Library Week” will be held sometime in April for the middle school.

The Track Season is also in full stride. Three middle school track meets are held in Kingsley on April 12 & April 17 and May 8. Kingsley-Pierson is in charge of the track meet on April 17, please call the Pierson office by 4/13 if you are interested in helping (yes we need more helpers)! The other two meets are organized by Woodbury Central (April 12 & May 8). Below is a list of the meets.

Elementary Instructional Coaches: Amy Bailey & Laura Boustead

As part of our role as instructional coaches, we have expanded our knowledge base in CIM by learning the Comprehension Focus Group lesson planner during our ongoing professional development. This can be used in whole or in part in upper grade CIM groups or as mini lessons in the elementary and middle school grades. The Comprehensive Focus Group is designed to promote students’ knowledge of genre and text structures through in-depth units of study. Teachers use explicit modeling to assist students in building connections between the reading and writing process.

We will close off the year by working with teachers to update the data wall on students’ literacy progress. We will also assess students on sight words and text level for teachers for the fourth quarter.

Middle School Instructional Coach: Valerie Sitzmann

Last summer I attended the Secondary Math Symposium at the AEA in Sioux City. There I met April Pforts, State Supervisor of Mathematics, who gave a presentation about Achieve the Core. She encouraged any interested parties to join the Iowa Core Advocates. Iowa Core Advocates is a team of teachers, AEA personnel, instructional coaches, administrators, and others interested in providing practical, evidence-based, support for teachers and school leaders making game-changing shifts to align their instructional materials, assessments, and practice to college- and career-ready standards.

Student Achievement Partners (SAP) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping teachers and school leaders implement high-quality, college- and career-ready standards. SAP believe that challenging academic standards are the foundation for improved student outcomes, but that standards alone are not enough. Students will only make dramatic gains in achievement if instructional materials, assessments, and classroom practices are true to the expectations of high-quality, college- and career-ready standards. Their work is grounded in research and evidence, and they are committed to sharing standards-aligned tools and practices freely with educators across the country.

Since joining this network of educators, I have spent many hours watching and participating in webinars to learn more about the K-12 Mathematics Standards. I have used resources on the from their site to present PD to math teachers in our district, and shared resources from this website with other Instructional Coaches and teachers. I look forward to exploring their website further this summer and presenting my learning to teachers in the district as well as using the information to continue to grow as an educator.

High School Instructional Coaches: Jayne Vondrak & Kris Hackett

Our Instructional Coaches will finish up the Student-Centered Coaching series with Diane Sweeney on April 25th in Cherokee. This fourth training session will provide information for collecting student data to inform coaching cycles with classroom teachers. Utilizing strategies from Sweeney’s book, Student-Centered Coaching: The Moves, coaches have the opportunity to practice and implement actions which will impact student performance.

The After Hours Book Study concluded on March 19th. Participants were Valerie Sitzmann, Laura Boustead, Kris Hackett, Molli Griffin, Erin Hoffman, Amy Benson and Jayne Vondrak. This semester’s book study focused on the ten guideposts identified in Brene’ Brown’s The Gifts of Imperfection. The group shared personal experiences, watched videos, and discussed ways they can utilize Brown’s tenets in their professional and personal lives.

The past month has provided Mrs. Vondrak with numerous coaching discussions and opportunities to work with students in Social Studies, Ag Science, and Health classes. Classroom teachers and Mrs. Vondrak set goals for students, design rubrics for assessment, plan for co-teaching, and schedule the number of class periods in which the lessons will be taught.

This month, Ag Science students worked on papers to be submitted to the World Food Prize student competition, which will be held in Ames in April. Students worked through a packet of information to select a country of interest and an issue which needs to be addressed in that country. For instance, some students looked into poverty while others researched water scarcity or malnutrition. Mrs. Vondrak co-taught with Mrs. Griffin as they guided students through the process of research and writing drafts.

Students in Modern World History demonstrated their understanding of the nonfiction book Hiroshima, written by John Hersey, by creating a Bloom Ball Book Report. The twelve-sided ball creates space for students to write information about characters and argue whether the atomic bomb should have been used by the United States. Students also illustrate sides for the title, memorable scenes, and characters.

In freshmen Health classes, students are learning the dangers of tobacco and other substances, including the effects of vaping. To share their investigation and analysis, students will explore the global use of substances, create warning labels and answer questions to inform their classmates. Students will utilize technology through a Padlet forum.

On March 12, Mrs. Vondrak presented to the Kingsley-Pierson School Board reactions and reflections from teachers about their experiences with the Teacher Leadership program this year. Classroom teachers recorded their responses on a FlipGrid video and addressed the successes they’ve seen as a result of Teacher Leadership. Six teachers, from elementary through high school, shared their collaboration with Model Teachers, Digital Literacy Coaches, and Instructional Coaches. In addition, the school board had the chance to watch a video in which Kathy Ploeger, Erin Hoffman and Jayne Vondrak discussed a coaching planning session and their teamwork in designing a unit for English I classes. The school board appreciated hearing from the teachers through these videos.

Digital Literacy Coaches: Jackie Lammers & Erin Hoffman

This year as part of our profession development for our positions, we have been attending monthly technology integration meetings. These meetings take place in various locations, but the attendees are mostly technology coaches or technology integrationists from around the area. Our agendas vary each month, but we always learn and share together.

Other things going on include grant writing for the district. We wrote four Iowa Stem grants this year. We will find out in May whether we receive any of those.

Foreign Exchange Program

Are you interested in hosting foreign exchange student and sharing the American Midwest lifestyle?

Now is the time. By inquiring with us now, you have a greater opportunity to find your perfect student. We help you with a simple compliance process and assist you in choosing your student. It is beneficial to start now, as you have options of country, gender, age, sports, hobbies and much more. By choosing a student early, you have 4-6 months to communicate via internet to get to know them before their arrival.

While you don’t get paid to host the students, they do come fully funded and with their own insurance. So we ask you to provide them with housing, parental guidance, and a great American Midwest family experience.

EF high school exchange year is based out of Boston, Mass, however you will have a local coordinator to assist you just a phone call away. Coordinators are very active in the students lives and supervision is the key to a successful student.

If you are interested in more information in hosting, please call or email.

The Art of Elementary School Students. Kingsley-Pierson is proud to recognize the work of Ruby Thompson and Janie Lammers. Ruby, the daughter of Dallas and Megan Thompson, is a fourth grade student. Her piece is a watercolor of a desert scene with the focus of the project on lines, textures, and repetition. Janie, the daughter of Travis and Jackie Lammers, is a second grade student. Her work is also a watercolor that was based on ears of corn on lines, textures, and repetition.

Happy Spring! Wish the weather would reflect the change of the calendar. I can handle rain. I am just so over the snow. I hope you had a great weekend with your families. Please encourage your student(s) to finish the year as strong as they started. It gets really tough being motivated the last 2 months and as the days get longer and the weather warmer, no one wants to stay inside to study or do homework. Continue to stick to your homework schedule and routine as much as you can. Soon enough it will be summer and the kids will be able to have all the freedom they want.

The teachers are continuing to stay very busy on their professional development afternoons. This Wed., April 4, the teachers, paras, and administrators will be in Pierson to receive additional training from the Woodbury County Sheriff’s Department on how to keep everyone safe in case of an active shooter situation. Hopefully we will never have to put this training into use, but as a parent and an educator, I would rather be prepared and never have to use it versus not being prepared and unorganized. I am sure as parents with each new tragedy we see on t.v. you have these conversations with your children. Thank you for supporting and trusting your teachers to keep everyone safe.

I am really excited as KP and WC will be doing more learning together next year thanks to our administration and school boards! WC is moving their monthly professional development early out day to align with ours on the first Wednesday of the month. This will allow for more collaboration among teachers and districts. I am not sure exactly how this will look next year, but I am excited to work with the teacher leaders from both districts this summer to plan when we work together next year and what it will look like.

Thank you again to our SIAC, School Improvement Advisory Committee, for meeting on Tues. March 20th. We discussed topics from food services to college and career readiness classes offered at KP. The discussion was rich and valuable information was gained by all.
